To Whom It May Concern

RE: Kathleen Bartholomew

Kathleen Bartholomew is one of the most dynamic and knowledgeable speakers on the state of nursing care I have heard. Her insight into nurse-to-nurse bullying and how use of current technology, i.e., cell phones, negatively impact delivery of safe patient care resonates with nurses today, especially those in leadership roles. Her wisdom on what we, as nurses can and should do to promote the profession for our patients is not to be missed.
